SENT TO DEATH BY JEERS

Owing to His Machine Meeting With an Accident Previously the Birdman
Announced He Would Not Fly.
Spectators Hoot and Shout "Faker" and Frisbie Ventures Up Only to Meet With Fatal Fall.

Norton, Kan., Sept. 2.—John J. Frisbie, the Curtis aviator, was killed by a fall at the Norton county fair. Frisbie met with an accident Thursday and went into the air again only when driven to do so by the taunts and jeers of the crowd.

Frisbie fell about 100 feet and the engine of the aeroplane fell on him, crushing his left side and chest. He lingered for about an hour before he died.

Frisbie has been giving exhibitions at Elmwood Park for several days. Thursday his craft acted badly and he had a fall of about forty feet, but beyond bruises and a shaking up was not injured.

He was skeptical about the ability of his machine to stand another flight and announced that he would not take the air, but when this statement was communicated to the crowd there was an angry demonstration. The spectators hooted and shouted "faker" and refused to listen to explanations.

It was then Frisbie announced that rather than have the big crowd leave with the impression that he was not willing to do his best he would attempt a flight.

He ascended without difficulty, but in attempting to make a turn the plane tipped and Frisbie lost control.

As he came crashing to the earth the spectators could see the aviator trying to right the machine, but as it approached the ground one of the wings crashed into a barn, and the biplane, glancing off, struck the earth with Frisbie underneath.

Frisbie's wife, son and little girl were witnesses of the accident. Mrs. Frisbie fainted when she saw her husband fall. She bitterly denounced the action of the spectators in forcing her husband to make the flight with a disabled machine.

Frisbie is well known among the aviators, having been a participant in the recent big meet at Chicago.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF KILLING

Child Dead and Father and Stepmother Wounded.

Kimballton, Ia., Sept. 2.—The eight-year-old stepson of Mrs. Paul Anderson is dead, his father is shot and Mrs. Anderson is suffering from a flesh wound inflicted by a revolver bullet. Mrs. Anderson is in jail at Audubon charged with killing the boy and attempting the life of her husband.

The Anderson home was burned following the slaying of the lad and the body was nearly consumed in the fire. The fire is blamed on the woman.

The exact cause of the shooting is not known. The Andersons have been married about four years and it is said that their home life has not been happy.

Neither the woman nor her husband were injured seriously. She is thirty years old.

MAY REOPEN CAR TROUBLE

Motorman at Des Moines Discharged and Appeals to Union.

Des Moines, Sept. 2.—Trouble between the street car company and the union may be renewed. Motorman Watson Roberts, leader of the union forces during the recent controversy with the company, was asked to resign by Superintendent W. E. Rolston of the street car company because of alleged smoking on duty.

Roberts refused to turn in his badge and reported the matter to A. L. Urlick, president of the Iowa Federation of Labor. The executive committee of the union will meet to consider Roberts' case.

The discharged motorman denies that he had smoked on duty.

BROTHER MAKES ADMISSION

Douglass Beattie Declares That Had
He Known the Prisoner Was to Be Charged With the Crime He Would Have Destroyed Evidence—Five Women
Friends Testify to Happy Family
Relations of Couple.

Chesterfield Courthouse, Va., Sept. 2.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., indicted for the murder of his wife, did not take the stand in his own behalf, as was expected, but the assertion was made just before court adjourned that the defense would conclude its case today with the prisoner's testimony.

An argument ensued between counsel for both sides as to whether the cross-examination of the accused could be finished today and it was obvious that the defense wished to have the prisoner rest over Sunday before the attack on him by the prosecution could be begun.

Thomas Hancock, one of the jurors, however, spoke up in a plaintive voice to the court, saying, "Please consider us, judge," and the court immediately asked H. M. Smith, Jr., counsel for the defense, how many more witnesses he would introduce.

"Just a few more," said Mr. Smith. "But we will surely close our case today by placing the prisoner on the stand," Judge Watson announced that he would hold court later than usual this evening if necessary to finish the case, but an agreement was reached to suspend judgment as to holding the night session until the testimony of the accused had been presented.

Testimony was perfunctory. Several women friends of the accused and his dead wife testified that the couple lived happily together.

Would Destroy Evidence.

Except for the impromptu admission of Douglass Beattie, a brother of the accused, that he would have destroyed evidence of the murder had he known his brother was to be charged with the crime the most interesting development was the discovery of a witness by the defense, Joseph Casselberg of Richmond.

Casselberg, it has been rumored for some time, has had mysterious knowledge of the case. He is reported to have been on the Midlothian turnpike with another person about the time the murder occurred and is supposed to be the man who stopped to crank his machine and was seen by the group of boys on their way from a dance at Bonar.

If he is called as a witness and admits that he stopped to fix his machine at the point where the boys say they saw the car with a woman on the running board and a man in front of it the defense considers this would convert much of the testimony tending to show that Mrs. Beattie was shot while on the running board and not in the car seat, as her husband alleges.

It was rumored, however, that the defense may not call Casselberg because of conflicting reports concerning his probable testimony.

Auto Experts Testify.

The question of whether Mrs. Beattie was shot while standing on the running board or in the road or, as her husband insists, while she sat in the front seat to the left of him, again was raised when several automobile experts testified that a large pool of blood, such as was found at the scene of the crime, could have trickled through the machinery of the car and flowed from the drip pan underneath to the ground. The testimony of the automobile experts was in line with the contention also that blood dripped from the machine in many places from the scene of the crime to the Owen home in Richmond where the young husband took his dead wife.

The defense introduced a score of witnesses to attack various other details in the evidence of the prosecution and it is expected the prisoner will make emphatic contradiction of his cousin Paul's entire testimony, clinging to his story at the coroner's inquest, that a bearded highwayman murdered his wife and that he took no part in a transaction concerning the purchase of the shotgun.

The prisoner was more cheerful than he has been for some time. As each of his five women friends who testified entered the courtroom he smiled and greeted them warmly.

His gray-haired father, who sat beside him, escorted each to the witness chair and when Hazel Beattie, his daughter, took the stand to testify to Henry's pleasant home life the aged parent bent over and kissed the young girl as she stepped to the witness stand.

Minnesota Postoffice.

Benidji, Minn., Sept. 2.—A new angle was added to the affairs in which Dr. D. F. Dumas, mayor of Cass Lake, has been the stellar light, by the entrance into the affair of the United States authorities, who through the district attorney's office at St. Paul had Dr. Dumas brought before H. A. Simons of this city, United States commissioner for this district, to answer to the charge of conspiracy to rob the postoffice at Pupok.

The doctor was accompanied by his attorney, Judge Spooner, of this city, his father, Frederick Dumas of Minneapolis, and J. W. Johnson of Cass Lake. Dr. Dumas waived examination and Judge Simons fixed bail at $10,000 for his appearance at the term of the United States district court at Fergus Falls in November. Bail was furnished, with Frederick Dumas and J. W. Johnson as sureties.

Sauk Center, Minn., Sept. 2.—Representative Lindbergh, writing from Little Falls to a Republican at Sauk Center in answer to the question: "Of course you expect to run again as congressman or for the senate?" replied: "At present I am not thinking about either of them. It is my policy not to think about running for anything until I have completed what I have on hand as well as I can. There is a whole session of congress before election and I consider it my duty to perform all the services I can for the public before I announce myself as a candidate again. That is why I do not make a statement that I am or am not a candidate."

WHO STARTED
RECIPROCITY?As Many Claimants as For Homer's Birthplace.

DEMOCRATS SAY THEY DID IT

Accuse Taft of Stealing It From Them.
Norris Says Taft Was Its Father and
Democrats Its Mother—Postal Savings
Banks and Parcels Post—The Inventor of the Revolving Turret.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, Sept. 2.—[Special.]—First and last there have been claims and counterclaims, humorous and serious, over the authorship or paternity of the Canadian reciprocity measure. "You stole it from the Democratic party," shouted Congressman Sims of Tennessee while charging the Republicans with various thefts. Congressman Norris of Nebraska made a humorous speech describing Taft as the father and the Democratic party as the mother of the Canadian reciprocity bill. He reviewed at some length the claims and counterclaims, including the assertion which Champ Clark made before he became speaker when he insisted that Taft had taken up a Democratic idea and did not give the Democrats their share of credit. Then later, as quoted by Norris, when the bill became a law the president passed out compliments to everybody. "In the west," declared the Nebraskaan, "there is no great desire, either among Republicans or Democrats, to claim credit for the Canadian reciprocity act. In fact, conventions of both parties meet and do not mention it."

Eyes on Canada.
And while this discussion as to who was responsible for Canadian reciprocity is going on in the United States it might be well to turn our eyes toward Canada, where it is just possible that the voters may repudiate the agreement by defeating the present government. Such rumors reach Washington from time to time, and reports indicate that Premier Laurier and his followers are in the fight of their lives. There is just one consolation for the newspapers. Even if Canada should repudiate the agreement the free pulp and paper provision is retained, for it was no part of the agreement—that is, in a reciprocal sense.

Postal Savings Success.
With considerable pride these days the postoffice department issues statements showing the great progress of postal savings banks. At first it was supposed that only in the country would these banks receive patronage. But the first nineteen days in four of the largest cities showed that the people want to deposit their money with the government. These cities show the following in that period: New York $75,194, Chicago $152,076, Boston $38,394, St. Louis $25,967. The system is to be extended as rapidly as possible.

The Parcels Post.
Postal savings banks and parcels post went hand in hand for a long time. George von L. Meyer, now secretary of the navy, is the father of the postal savings banks. He was also earnestly in favor of the parcels post. Bankers long opposed the savings bank, but they are now for it. Merchants in small towns oppose the parcels post. Is it not likely that they are as much mistaken regarding this postal improvement as were the bankers in regard to savings banks?

Growth of a Bureau.
Testifying in the Wiley case, Secretary Wilson said that the bureau of chemistry during the fourteen years he had been secretary of agriculture had grown from a division with eighteen employees, spending $30,000 a year, to one of 500 employees, spending $1,000,000. Thus it appears how the progress in scientific farming has been in interwoven with chemistry.

"Nothing New Under the Sun."
Bills were introduced in congress directing the use of a warship to convey the remains of Theodore Roosevelt Timby from Brooklyn to Washington. The preamble declared that Timby and Ericsson was the inventor of the revolving turret used in warfare. But then grim history got in its work, and it was shown that Ericsson made practical work of the revolving turret when he built the Monitor. More than that, away back in the days when they began to use gunpowder in the middle ages a sort of revolving turret was used. If we wait long enough we will hear that the Chinese used it in the steenth dynasty, for they always came along with claims of that kind.

Would Have Something.
Senator Heyburn was opposing one of Jonathan Bourne's progressive bills, and the senate was not paying very much attention to his remarks. "I will not occupy the time of the senate if I can have the attention of the senate," he said. Then he paused. Everybody seemed to be busy with his own affairs and did not care what the Idaho senator said. "If I do not have the attention of the senate," he said rather viciously, "I will occupy its time. I will have one of the other."

PRIMARY CAMPAIGNCommittee Will Thoroughly Probe
Stephenson's Election.

Milwaukee, Sept. 2.—The investigation by the subcommittee on privileges and elections of the United States senate into the methods by which Senator Isaac Stephenson obtained a United States senate seat will include an investigation of the primary election.

Although the members of the committee have refrained from saying how far the scope of the investigation would be extended the list of subpoenas which arrived here leaves no doubt that the investigation is to cover the primary election as most of the witnesses summoned had nothing whatever to do with the legislative election.

Frederick N. Webster, Sr., one of the assistant sergeants of arms of the United States senate, has arrived in the city with subpoenas summoning Milwaukeeans to appear before the committee.

The annual memorial exercises took added interest this year on account of the presence of the governor of the state and other high officials, who added their tribute to those who had given their lives while opening up a new country.

Harriman Lines Refuse to Recognize
New Federation.

SITUATION IS VERY GRAVE

Vice President Kruttschnitt Declares
Recognition of Federation Would Hamper Company in Performing Its Duty to the Public—Union Leaders
Considering Strike Vote and Developments
May Come Soon.

San Francisco, Sept. 2.—The Southern Pacific Railroad company, through Julius Kruttschnitt, vice president and director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman lines, rejected a demand for recognition of the federation of shop employees, comprising five shop crafts unions and 25,000 men.

That such recognition, with its implications, would hamper the company in performing its duty to the public was the position taken by its officials. Union leaders asked for it on grounds of economy and expedition and, admittedly, because of a feeling that greater centralization of capital and power made corresponding centralization among unions desirable.

The unions involved had asked their general officers for permission to strike in the event of the refusal to grant recognition of the federation.

A conference lasting three hours and twenty minutes was terminated by Mr. Kruttschnitt's final answer and following it the union representatives, sober faced, went into session by themselves to consider the strike vote, which they may accept as binding or may reject, refusing to sanction a strike.

President Kline, it was learned, presented the case for the unions and replied to questions put to him by the railroad officials, who acted without a formal spokesman during the discussion.

Mr. Kline based his pleading on economic grounds and one of the officials said "held his own" in the questioning from his angle of the case. Once or twice the discussion became lively, but it never ranged beyond cool-headed argument.

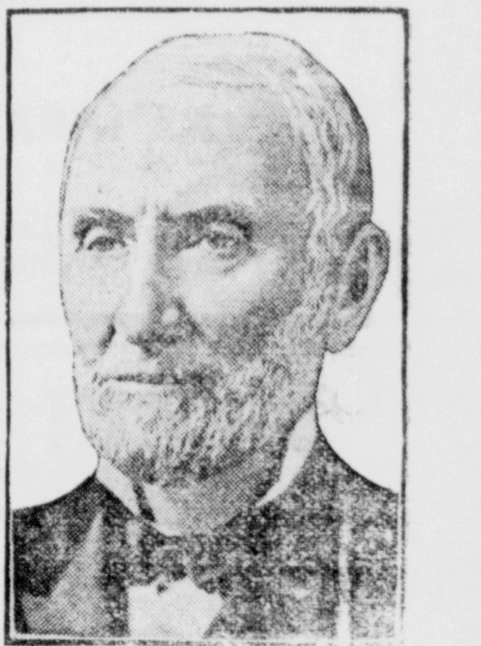

The railroad officials in their turn took the position—already publicly announced by Mr. Kruttschnitt—that the federation's power and demands would render it impossible for them to perform the duties and carry the responsibilities which are imposed upon them by law and which make them, in the words of Mr. Kruttschnitt, "quasi-public officials."

MERCHANTS VS CLERKS

An Afternoon Engagement, Sept. 10,
Koering Field, Positively Farewell Tour

On September 10 the merchants and the clerks will have a baseball game at the Koering grounds to settle the supremacy in baseball matters and to decide decisively the previous record made at the Merrifield picnic last Tuesday.

The merchants may make a few changes in their line-up. They will appear in the suits kindly loaned them by the Brainerd city team. There will be free admission to the game. A charge of ten cents will be made for grand stand seats.

Little Falls is not in it when it comes to the arguments which the coming game is precipitating. Ole Peterson is practicing daily throwing spit balls and Sam Parker is catching anything thrown at him. The other day ten pairs of shoes fell from the top shelf in the All Leather shoe store but Ed. Levant caught the whole bunch, thanks to his training on first base.

WARRANT OUT FOR KIDNAPPING

French Barnes, Aged 64, Said to Have Induced Eva and Marion Isaacs to Leave Sleepy Eye

GIRLS ARE 14 AND 16 YEARS OLD

Trio Stayed at Hotel and Later Had House Rented When They Were Arrested

With a warrant for kidnapping hanging over his head and a view of 20 years in the penitentiary is the predicament which French Barnes, an old soldier aged 64, finds himself in.

Charged by Harris Isaacs, a junk dealer of Sleepy Eye, with kidnapping his two little girls, Eva Isaacs aged 16 and Marion Isaacs aged 14, Sheriff W. J. Julius, of New Ulm, Brown county and August G. Erickson, the county attorney lost no time in wiring and telephoning over the country for Barnes and the girls.

The girls are said to have left home on Saturday. On Thursday Chief Ridley, of this city, received a telephone message to detain three such people and they were found near the Atlas mill where they had rented a house.

Barnes and the girls were apprehended and lodged in jail awaiting the coming of the officers.

The girls seem to regard the whole matter as a joke and referred to old Barnes as grandfather. Visiting the jail and talking with them the two girls stood on the edge of their bed in the cell and their eyes were just able to clear the grating. Both wore red hats of a large size and endeavored to keep up their appearances even in such a foreboding place as the city lockup.

Both have gray, blue eyes and are rather handsome with their long curls clustering on their foreheads. Eva was the first one to speak. She said:

"I am going to be 16 on the eleventh of September. We didn't exactly run away with Barnes. We knew him a long time ago and used to steal his pies when he lived in Sleepy Eye. We left that town on Saturday and went to Marshall where we found Barnes. He paid our fares to St. Cloud on the Great Northern and then to Brainerd on the Northern Pacific railway. We stayed at a hotel in Brainerd when we got here Tuesday and went to the shows. Mr. Barnes then rented a house and bought some furniture and we moved our trunk and satchels in.

"I came up here to write for the newspapers and the Womans World. I've got a lot of poetry in my trunk that I have composed at different times and I thought I could make some money like that and get to be famous. Say, give me a sheet of paper and a pencil and if you promise to publish it I will give you some of my verses."

A sheet of paper and a pencil were passed to Miss Eva through the grating and she wrote and handed out the following:

THE LOST CHORD
Oh! Where is the lost chord to be found?

Hunt high, hunt low.
Where the south winds blow,
By the old Egyptian mounds.
The chord is lost!
But none can tell
Whether it fare bad or it fare well.
For the chord is lost.
Then go, ye lovers of music,
Soft and low,
To the sea of love, whose waves
By storm are never tossed
And there to be found
Is the chord which was lost.
Miss Eva Isaacs, written when 14 years of age.

By simply substituting the words sisters for chord it makes quite a poem and would read: "Oh! Where are the lost Isaacs sisters to be found? Hunt high, hunt low," which Sheriff Julius and the energetic county attorney, August Erickson certainly did.

Marion then chimed in the conversation. "Well," she said, "I am going to be 15 next February 25. I don't write any poetry like Eva. All I came to Brainerd for was to see if I could get a job in a hotel. We really didn't run away with Grand Daddy Barnes. We just met him at Marshall and went with him."

Eva appears to be the mover in most of the enterprises and has the more romantic mind and induces her matter of fact sister to follow her in carrying out her various projects.

"What will you kids do if you are put in the training school?" was asked them.

"Oh! We'll never get there. And if we did we'd run away."

"Now please send me a paper with my poetry in," said Eva, as the writer left.

Sheriff Julius and County Attorney Erickson were found in consultation with Chief Ridley.

"We shall take the girls and Barnes back to Brown county on the morning train," said the sheriff. "They have given us a lot of trouble."

"I really do not know what to do with Barnes," said Mr. Erickson.

"He is an old soldier who draws a pension of $12 a month and has never been in such an escapade before. He was married years ago and his wife has left him. The man is over 64 years of age. The kidnapping charge could be pressed against him at Brainerd, Marshall or Sleepy Eye. It is a serious matter and it all depends on what evidence we get from the girls who, however, are not disposed to talk very much with me.

Their father is a junk dealer at Sleepy Eye.

"Yes, we have had some great cases in Brown county. One which caused considerable attention was that of an automobile driver who came down the dusty road at a high rate of speed and ran through the entire Sleepy Eye band, scattering musicians and instruments and winding up his run with the B flat trombone wound around the axle and the base drum punctured by the head lights."

"Now, about those two girls. The best thing for them would be an application with Whittier's celebrated spanking machine. There seems to be no way to reason with them or to control them and they will probably be sent to Red Wing."

Messrs. Erickson and Julius left with their charges on the early morning train and the rest of the episode will be threshed out in Brown county courts.

HARVEST HOME PICNIC

Held at Merrifield Friday Offers Attractive Program to the many Visitors Present

The second annual Harvest Home Picnic held in connection with school district 43 took place at Merrifield yesterday, and a most enjoyable time was spent.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather of the morning, by noon a large crowd from miles around gathered for dinner with each farmer and family bringing along several baked and fried chickens with other edibles that went to make a sumptuous feast which was heartily enjoyed.

An excellent program was carried out consisting of music and addresses with every outdoor convenience arranged for the same. E. E. Taylor acted as chairman of the occasion, and by the time he had called the crowd together the late comers had greatly swelled the number.

Among the speakers were the Rev. W. J. Horner, the Rev. Chas. Fox Davis, and county superintendent of schools, Mrs. Irma Hartley, of Brainerd, and C. A. Taylor, A. S. Peabody, Quinn Parker, of Merrifield, the last three speakers acquitting themselves excellently.

Those present declare that the county superintendent of schools, Mrs. Irma Hartley, gave a fine address, proving that she has not only the executive ability as proved from her past year's work in handling the schools of the county, but also the gift to talk in public and infusing an audience with earnestness in educational matters. She made a fine impression upon the large audience as she told of her plans for the furtherance of educational interests in the 105 schools of the rapidly developing county of Crow Wing.

An agricultural exhibit was held in connection with the picnic and the exhibit though small, was a revelation of the possibilities of the soil around Merrifield and vicinity. Next year prizes will be given for the best exhibit. At the close of the program a committee was appointed for the picnic of 1912.

STORM DD DAMAGE

Northwestern Telephone Exchange
Co. Phones Damaked by Storm and Fire Friday Morning

One crash of lightning Friday morning put 60 phones of the Northwestern Telephone Exchange Co. out of commission. The fire at Biever's garage added to the damage for it burned out 25 pairs of cable. A cableman of St. Cloud finished his work today repairing the break.

"The total loss to the telephone company," said C. O. Fields, the wire chief, "will amount to fully $150."

Bet of Brainerd Fans of $300 on Their Team is Not Covered by Little Falls

The offer made by Brainerd fans betting $300 on their team for a game with Little Falls on September 10 has not been covered. As Little Falls is now being assessed on moneys and credits it was probably thought advisable not to make too much of a showing in the betting line as it might have some effect on raising assessments.

A FOREIGN ALLIANCE

They sat in the sultry summer eve. Beneath the moon's pale light. And he told her tales of a foreign land. And a future fair and bright.

"What would you have, sweet maiden fair?"

He urged in accents sweet.

"What would you wish that I could do To make your life complete?"

She turned to him her dimming eyes, And murmured through young tears,

"It's so darned hot, duke, I would like Some golden grain belt beers."

ACKNOWLEDGE IT

Brainerd Has to Bow to the Inevitable—Scores of Citizens Prove it

After reading the public statement of this representative citizen of Brainerd given below, you must come to this conclusion: A remedy which cured years ago, which has kept the kidneys in good health since, can be relied upon to perform the same work in other cases. Read this:

Miss Catherine Bone, 601 S. Sixth St., Brainerd, Minn., says: "In view of my own experience with Doan's Kidney Pills and that of my friends, I know this remedy to be a reliable one for troubles, caused by disordered kidneys. A short time ago I procured a box from a local drug store and used them for weakness and a dull, tired ache across my back. In a short time they entirely relieved me. One of my relatives was also cured of a similar complaint by the use of this remedy." (Statement given August 31, 1908.)

A SECOND STATEMENT
When Miss Bone was interviewed on October 12, 1910, she said: "I cheerfully endorse Doan's Kidney Pills again, as I feel that I cannot praise them too highly. This remedy has certainly worked wonders in my case."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SPLENDID SAMPLES

Dispatch Receives Corn From Messrs. Mills and Potatoes From Jack Winter

Samples of some of the finest corn raised in Crow Wing county were received today from W. G. and R. M. Mills who are tilling the Frank Bredfield farm near the city. The corn is of the variety known as "Minnesota King." It is perfectly matured and well developed. The ears are sound and every kernel is large and distinct.

Sharing honors with the corn was a basket of potatoes raised by Jack Winter of Daggett Brook. They are monsters in size and two would make a meal for a small family. The potatoes are sound and perfect beauties.

The samples are on display in the Dispatch office and were admired by many visitors and are certainly proof of the productiveness of Crow Wing county's soil.
